WINNING GOAL IN OVERTIME

Mighty Five Defeat Segatchies 27 to 25—Amburn Scores Final Shot-McGrath Answers Challenge-Willimantic Wrestler Out with Defi.

The Mighty Five of the local association and the Segatchles of New London put up the most exciting basketball game of the season Saturday evening at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, finishing the second period tied at 25 to 25, and the home team winning out in about two minutes of overtime on a field goal shot by Amburn. A good sized crowd which was present enjoyed the sport furnished by this game and another, which was between the Jolly Five of the employed boys class and the second senior team.

The game between the Mighty Five and the Segatchles was a fast one from the Stant, but the Mighty Five led 18 to 16 at the end of the first half. Pretty passing abounded, but both teams were pursued by a hoodoo on goal shooting, and many of their shots rolled around the basket and fell off without counting. This was noticeable especially with the New Londoners, who got many chances to shoot in the first half but couldn't find the center of the basket.

In the second half the visitors open.

inst has but couldn't had the center of the basket.

In the second half the visitors opened up an effective spurt which landed them even with the Mighty Five when the final whistle blew. Overtime was ordered and the two fives went into it at a slashing gait. The defensive work of the Norwich five was great and they landed the game a winner when Amburn shot a field goal after two minutes of play. Score, Mighty Five 27, Segatchies 15.

Center Tuttle and Right Forward Amburn were the leading point scorers for the Mighty Five, Center McDonald and Guard Starr for the New London players.

and Guard Starr for the New London players.

STATE LEAGUE BOWLING New Haven Holds the Lead-Watt of Bridgeport Individual Leader.

New Haven is still leading the Connecticut State Bowling league with Hartford only three games away, and Bridgeport third, three games behind Hartford. Meriden, Waterbury and Bristol, in the order named, are the second division, with but little chance of getting inside the money this season. Bridgeport and New Haven hold the high team single and three strings, respectively, with 1056 and 2986. The averages and standing to date follow:

Duckpin Prize Winners.

The high duckpin score Saturday at the Rose alleys was made by Bill Mc-Clafferty, who rolled up a single of 120. Hill finished the week high on three string total, having 317. The same roller also looks like a sure winner of the $5 dental prize offered a month ago by the King Dental company. The limit of time is out March 3d, and Hill now has a five string total of 552, which it will take some star rolling on the part of the local men to beat.

OF BISHOP BREWSTER Preached Eloquent Sermon at Christ Church-Many Confirmed.

The Connecticut Association of Classical and High School Teachers convenical and High School Teachers convenical and High School Teachers convenical and High School Teachers convenicated at New Haven Saturday for its annual convention. The secretary reported a membership of about 200, a net gain of 30 since one year ago. The treasurer, Henry E. Cottle, reported that after paying the current expenses for the year there was a balance of $115 in the treasury.

The business meeting was followed by a general session of the association, at which William D. Mackensie, D. D., of the Hartford Theological seminary made a piea for individuality, and applied it to the work of teaching. He thought in this branch of work there was a scope for individuality and originality.

At the afternoon session L. B. Mathius of Bridgeport spoke on Commercial Studies, and the other speakers were J. C. Moody of New Britain: Mr. Handy of Winsted and Edward A. Stamuris of Stamford.

The department of English was addressed by Alfred M. Hitchcock of Hartford, N. H. Batcheider of Lakeville and Prof. Chauncey B. Tinker of Yale. In the history department there were talks by Philip M. Howe of Rockville, Prof. H. B. Wright of Yale, Miss Alice Brigham of New Britain and R. E. Phyfe of Hartford.

In the Latin and Grek department the talks were by Harley Roberts of Watertown, Prof. Goodell of Yale, Prof. Hartington of Middletown, H. A. Tirrell of Norwich, Walter A. Towne of New London, Dr. J. J. Robinson of Lakeville and Miss C. C. Gulliver of Norwich.

Besides the above there was also the department of manual teaching. Right Rev. Chauncey B. Brewster, D. D., bishop of this diocese, made his annual Lenten visitation to the Episcobal churches of this vicinity on Saturday and Sunday, preaching in each of the churches and administering the rite of confirmation to classes of good size. At Grace church, Yantic, he was the preacher Saturday at evening prayer, but there was no confirmation class. Sunday morning at the service at 10.30 the bishop preached at Trinity church, confirming a class of eleven, and in the afternoon at 3 o'clock he was present at St. Andrew's church, Greeneville, where a class of eight was confirmed.

Sunday evening the churches held a united service at Trinity church, which was almost completely filled by the congregation present, and a class of fourteen was confirmed by the bishop. Rev. Neilson Pop Carey, the rector, Archdeacon Brown of Trinity church, Rev. F. Johns Bohanan of St. Andrew's and Rev. W. C. Simpson of Grace church officiated in the service of evening prayer.

Rev. F. Johns Bohanan of St. Andrew's and Rev. W. C. Simpson of Grace church officiated in the service of evening prayer.

The sermon was by the bishop, a discourse of direct and practical application, for which he took as his text Psalms xl. 12: For innumerable evils have compassed me about, mine iniquities have overtaken me, so that I am not able to look up; they are more than the hairs of mine head and my heart hath failed me.

It is a possible thing, he said, to have a very difinite knowledge of sin and yet have a very shallow conviction of one's own sin, and he invited his hearers to a consideration of what he would call the arithmetic of sin, the adding of one sin to another and the multiplication of sins. Sin is like a spreading branch, and the militiplied little sins are terrible as the locusts in troops. Think of the little sins against; cheerfulness, the flecks of unselfishness, the petulance, the lil humor that brings on the tempest and destruction to the home. Think of the little meannesses that render at the last a character ignoble; of the weaknesses and induigences that disintegrate the fibre of character and lead to moral catastrophe. We speak of little sins, but we do not see them in their far-reaching effect. God measures sin by the laward disposition. The measure of the flood is not when it is safely confined behind the dam, but with the dam broken away and rushing headlong to its work do we see the true measure of the flood. Thus it is with hate, covetousness, lust. They are to be measured seconding to their natural tendency and outcome. And the justness of this measure is seen in some sudden fall from a great height. But really all that its sudden is the revelation. The msn wrong has been wrong all the time. It is the current confined but now finding the line of least resistance.

There is then the geometrical programsion of sin by the law of habit.

Lakeville and Miss C. C. Gulliver of Norwich.

Besides the above there was also the department of manual training, at which an interesting address was made by Charles F. Warner of Springfield and others. In the departments of mathematics, modern languages and science there were also interesting discussions. After the short addresses in each section, the subjects were discussed by members of the association.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Henry A. Tirrell, Norwich; vice president, W. C. Akers, New Britain; recording secretary, Miss Julia Brazos, Middletown; treasurer, Henry E. Cottle, Bristol; corresponding secretary, W. J. Prouty, Meriden executive committee, Miss Jennie A. Pratt, Hartford, J. B. Houston, New Haven, and John C. Brinsmade, Washington.

Summer Cottage at Gales Ferry.

The contract has been let for the building of a large summer cottage soon to be erected for George Frost of Montciair, N. J., on the site purchased last summer by Mr. Frost adjoining his cottage on the railroad land at Gales Ferry to John Paracenti of Norwich, whose bid was $20 under the other contractors who figured on the work. Mr. Paracenti had the contract for the grading, which was completed last fail, and also built the dock in front of the property. Assistant Postmaster Norman L. Brown has taken the contract for carting the building material, part of which arrived this week at the village station.

but now inding the line of least resistance.

There is then the geometrical progression of sin by the law of habit, tending to benumbed sensibilities and a weakening of the will. Of the little sins there may be so many that one finds himself fast and bound like Guiliver in the land of the Lilliputians. One kind of sin comes not alone, and one sin may then involve in a very labyrinth of vice.

Sin tends to form false tissue of character and propogates by germs and we have to learn to beware of the germs of moral evil, the little things. We may well take some note of the little things and see which way we are going. We may be headed to a great moral catastrophe through these little things that are the beginnings of great wrongs. Sin is a moral disease winthe nearthlittle of sensitive of sensitive of sensitive and some and the sensitivity of sensitivity of sensitivity of sensitivity. Sheltering Arms Service. The services at the Sheltering Arms The services at the Sheltering Arms Sunday afternoon were largely attended, there being one of the largest gatherings of the winter. Rev. J. R. Very, pastor of the Third Baptist church, conducted the service, taking as his topic Keeping Your Thought in the Love of God. The singing west lider the direction of the choir of the church. Beyond the Tide was finely sung by Miss Lillian Austin and Miss Margaret Clark of Willimantic. As a solo, Mrs. J. R. Sin is a moral disease with the possibility of growing worse, but there is also the possibility of betterment if we seek divine aid with the will to receive it. His help is promised to all who ask, but having come once to him we still have need to watch and pray, always with our will braced by his cross, always with our soul filled with his love.

The collection taken was given to the bishop for diocesan uses, as he shall choose.

The Country School" Entertains Large Audience—Religious and Per-

The largest crowd of the season was at the chapel Friday evening to attend the entertainment given by the C. Y. P. S. The play was "The Country School." Hamilton Wallis took the part of the schoolmaster to perfection, while John R. Backus made a good committee. The pupils were C. T. Williams, Daniel W. Williams, E. T. Bunyan. E. R. Gillette, Dr. A. L. Stebbins, Prof. R. A. Moore, Charles Hall, Clayton Miller and F. E. Paker, Mrs. J. R. Backus, Mrs. A. L. Stebbins, Mrs. F. B. Willoughby, Mrs. Daniel Williams, Miss Clars Backus, Mrs. Hamiton Wallis and Miss Nellie Smith. The pupils were dressed in the old style costumes and created much laughter as they filed into the room. The classes in spelling and history were put through a course of serouts by the committeeman and elicited much applause by their droll answers. The singing by the school of their motion song was diverting, as also was the "piece" which was recited by Miss Smith and the little song by Mrs. Willoughby, P. T. Bunyan read a composition on "Boys." After the entertainment the younger people onjoyed games, etc. Before the play the usual supper was served, gotten up by the gentlemen of the society, who give one each year!
